NEW SERIES AT CREATIVE ARTS WORKSHOP

New Haven, CT – Ever wonder what it is that artists tap into for inspiration? Creative Arts Workshop invites you to a new monthly series called In Sight to find out. The first conversation will take place on Thursday October 20th from 6 to 7pm in the Hilles Gallery at CAW at 80 Audubon St. in New Haven.

Join artists and CAW faculty Michael Bradford, potter, and Matthew Stevens, illustrator, as they share the various processes involved in creating their work. See sources of inspiration, sketches, previous and alternate versions of an artwork. “We are really excited to have our faculty take center stage and share their journey to creativity with us,” said Robin Green, CAW’s Gallery Fellow. Refreshments will be served; visitors are welcome to bring a meal. The program is free.

ABOUT CREATIVE ARTS WORKSHOP

Creative Arts Workshop is a non-profit community art center devoted to fostering creativity through participation in and appreciation of the visual arts, serving the Greater New Haven area and beyond since 1961. The Workshop is a premiere community resource center for the visual arts offering a wide range of classes to students of all ages in fully equipped studios. CAW is supported by its membership, tuition fees, donors, sponsors, arts-related fundraising events and a dedicated group of volunteers. Additional funding comes from the Department of Economic and Community Development/Connecticut Office of the Arts, NewAlliance Foundation, and the Laetitia V. Person Fund and the David G. Powrie Fund of The Community Foundation for Greater New Haven.
